OPTOMAP RETINA SCREENING

The Doctors at The Eye Gallery highly recommend the Optomap retinal screening. This technology consists of taking an undilated digital photograph of the back part of the eye, the retina.

The $25 fee for this screening procedure is generally a non-covered service, unless being used to actively follow ocular or systemic disease.

These images can help show early signs of many ocular and systemic diseases such as:

- *Diabetes
- *High blood pressure
- *Stroke
- *Glaucoma
- *Macular degeneration
- *Floaters
- *Retinal tears or detachments

*Please note:

When disease exists, or is discovered inside of the eyes, we will then photo-document the pathology using a more detailed image, so that we can monitor it for progression over time. Under these circumstances, we will submit a charge of $80 to your major medical insurance.
